Dean's Message

We've been away, but don't worry, you'll receive your full subscription. Our first Fred Gray Social Justice Seminar was one of the high points of the year, for which many people are to thank, principally Professor Fulcher who pulled together a great program on short notice. Next fall, we will have the Second Annual Fred Gray Social Justice Seminar. I hope you'll plan to attend.

Naturally, more students earned Dean's Awards for assisting with that program: Mystical Studaway, Angel Jacobs, Jackson Martin, Amit Patel, Terrye Nash, Rob Kent, Aleta Larger, Julio Moreno, Bebe Caffey, and Brian Weston. Thanks for their help. In addition, several students volunteered at the 100 Black Men of Dekalb County Justice Program and earned Dean's Awards: Agatha Romanowski, Allicia Mullice, Cameil Reddick, Corey Martin, and Lisa Gomes. Finally, two Dean's Awards that are way overdue: Brian Weston and Prosha Nasseh. I hope they will pardon our delay.

I should point out that I'm giving away more Dean's Awards than I'm really giving away. Some of the recipients have been too shy to come to my office to receive the award and participate in the investiture ceremony. Come on down!

Congratulations to the Willaim Daniel Mock Trial Competition team: Tracee Benzo, Eric Dec, Michael Holmes, and David Willingham; Nick Utley, Laurel Creek, Christine Bechtold, and Eddie Fons; Erik Roskopf, Amit Patel, Phillip Mansell, and Robin Love. Professor Rapping confirms that they did an excellent job.

And, congratulations to David Lockhart for winning 2nd Place in the KeenanKids Foundation 6th Annual Law Student Closing Argument Competition! This included 22 law students from all five Georgia law schools, including our own Aleta Larger and Chad Dillard. Mr. Keenan recently visited Prof. Kent's class and has a strong affinity for John Marshall.

With the end of classes approaching, I hope you are swarming over your professors with completed practice exams and questions from your outline. Don't hurt yourself by being too shy to ask about parts of a course for which you feel less prepared.

Have a great week!

Dean Lynn

This week's announcements:

- New Externship Opportunity with GA Tech Athletic Association
- Intern/Extern Opportunity with Turner Legal Department's Music Group
- Hot Jobs

NEW EXTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY WITH GA TECH ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Georgia Tech Athletic Association is accepting resumes from JMLS students for a spring semester externship. Students must be eligible to practice under the Third-year Practice Act and preference is given to students who have taken contracts. Please contact Prof. Turner at ext. 251 ASAP if you are interested.

A special thanks to Kurt Schuettinger, President of the Sports law and Entertainment Society, for securing this exciting placement for the school.

INTERN/EXTERN OPPORTUNITY WITH TURNER LEGAL DEPARTMENT'S MUSIC GROUP

The Music Group within the Turner Legal Department is accepting applications for a Spring 2008 internship. The position is open to 2L's. Applications are available online at www.timewarner.com. The application deadline is December 29, 2007. If you are interested in the position as an externship (for academic credit), please contact Prof. Turner at 404-872-3593, ext. 251.
