- Volunteer for community service projects
- Get involved in a committee

Membership in the Atlanta Bar Association is your best opportunity to become a part of what will become, in a short period of time, your peer group.

The Atlanta Bar was established in 1888 and is comprised of nearly 6,000 lawyers, judges, law students and affiliate members.

The Atlanta Bar's mission is accomplished in large part through its 21 Sections and various committees and special projects.

One of the sections of interest to law students is the Atlanta Council of Younger Lawyers which is comprised of attorneys who are 36 years of age or younger or who have been in practice less than three years. It offers its members opportunities for networking, continuing legal education, community service, and service to the profession. ACYL is the second largest section of the Atlanta Bar and has been a vital and integral part of the Bar for 38 years.

Membership in the Atlanta Bar Association and the Sections of your choice will be a tremendous asset to your career as a lawyer!
