

IMPACT REPORT

2025–2026 HONOR ROLL OF DONORS
SCHOLARSHIP IMPACT | 2026–27 AWARDS

At Atlanta's John Marshall Law School, access to legal education is not an abstraction. It is a student who stays enrolled, sits for the bar, and returns to the community that needs a lawyer. This report reflects the generosity of those who made that possible.

A LETTER FROM THE DEAN

The Case For Access Has Never Been Stronger

Dear AJMLS Family and Friends,

As we close another fiscal year at Atlanta's John Marshall Law School, I am grateful for the many people who continue to believe in our students and our mission.

This year, 97 donors and friends contributed $749,877 helping provide scholarships, emergency assistance, and other critical support for our students. Because of your support, Ten new scholarships were created including the Student Emergency Relief Fund, the Judge Ronald Ramsey Sr. Legacy

Scholarship, and the Friends of Dean Ellin Scholarship.

These gifts make a real difference. They keep students in school, prepare for the bar, and begin their careers in the legal profession.

Thank you for believing in our students and investing in their future. As we begin FY27, I invite you to continue standing with Atlanta's John Marshall Law School and the next generation of lawyers.

Martin L. Ellin

Giving in Action

The Student Emergency Relief Fund, established this year, received strong support through $25 and $50 gifts to help students facing immediate financial challenges.

379 Students. One Shared Commitment.

Our students come from different backgrounds and at different stages of life, but many share the challenge of balancing the demands of law school with work and financial responsibilities. For many, a law degree represents a first-generation path to graduate education and a significant step toward their professional goals.

How Scholarships Make a Difference

AJMLS students are preparing for careers that serve communities across Georgia and beyond. Many balance law school with work, family, and financial responsibilities, leaving little room for unexpected expenses.

Scholarships provide more than financial assistance. They give students the stability to stay enrolled, focus on their studies, prepare for the bar, and complete their legal education.

That investment extends beyond graduation. Our scholarship recipients take their education into their communities and, in many cases, return to AJMLS to give back to the next generation of students.

“I choose to give back to AJMLS because it afforded me the opportunity for a rewarding second career — one that now allows me to give back to AJMLS and to the community at large. I truly count it a privilege.”

Summer Stipends and Bar Support

These awards were made possible through the John Marshall Law School Fund — the school's unrestricted fund. This flexible support allows us to respond to student's needs at critical moments: when a student is dedicating their summer to public service without a paycheck, and when a new graduate is pouring everything into bar preparation.

Looking Ahead to Next Year

One Time Gift

A single gift of any size can support the fund you choose or provide immediate assistance through the Student Emergency Relief Fund.

Give Monthly

Recurring gifts allow us to commit aid before the semester begins, helping students stay enrolled rather than waiting until a financial challenge forces them to withdraw.

Name A Fund

A $25,000 gift establishes an endowed award in your name, your firm's name, or in honor or memory of someone special — supporting a student every year, in perpetuity.

Include AJMLS In Your Estate

A bequest can create a lasting legacy without affecting your current financial plans. It can establish a scholarship that supports AJMLS students for generations to come. We are happy to provide sample language for you to review with your attorney or financial advisor.

More than 80 students applied for scholarship assistance this year. We were able to award scholarships to more than 35. The gap between those numbers represents the work still ahead of us.
